

BPL is a patently bad idea. It has been rejected all over the world because of the interference it causes and with its vulnerability to being interfered with. I fail to understand why the FCC is pushing ahead with BPL despite the overwhelming evidence that it will fail.